

INDICTED THE W. U.

Queens County Grand Jury After the Telegraph Company.

Connection with Alleged Pool-Selling the Charge.

District-Attorney Noble Refused to Issue Bench Warrants.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., Jan. 29.—The politicians of this city were very much surprised this morning when it became known that the Queens County Grand Jury, which adjourned last week, had indicted J. J. Murphy, a bookmaker, of 17 Temple street, Astoria, the Western Union Telegraph Company, of New York, and Mrs. Hart, wife of Peter Hart, who keeps a hotel on Laurel Hill, just over the Long Island City-line.

The indictments were found in connection with alleged pool-selling, which ex-District-Attorney Fleming, of Jamaica, said was conducted in the upper story of Hart's Hotel during the latter part of December.

Col. Fleming and several Pinkerton detectives were the principal witnesses before the Grand Jury. Managers Hughes and Humstone, of the Western Union, and ex-Police Justice Stephen J. Kavanagh, of this city, were also examined.

Although Col. Fleming's term of office expired on Dec. 31, Supreme Court Justice Gaynor had scarcely taken his seat on the bench of the Queens County Court-House, in January, when the ex-District-Attorney's indictment was returned, and the existence of pool-rooms on Laurel Hill.

District-Attorney Noble's friends at once interpreted this move on the part of Fleming as an insult to Mr. Noble, and an indignity to the city.

Mr. Fleming referred to during the last session of the Grand Jury, in connection with the fact that Mr. Fleming failed to prosecute the case against the pool-rooms, and also neglected to turn over to him many of the books and documents of the District-Attorney's office.

The indictment employed the Pinkerton detectives on his own responsibility and paid them out of his pocket. It was made on account of the fact that Mr. Fleming failed to prosecute the case against the pool-rooms, and also neglected to turn over to him many of the books and documents of the District-Attorney's office.

DEMANDED MONEY OR BLOOD

Two Cherry Hill Troughs Invade an Italian's Apartment.

Policeman Galvin Roughly Handled in Trying to Arrest Them.

John McBride, of 18 Cherry street, and William Rogers, of 72 Oliver street, were arrested in the Tombs Court this morning charged with assaulting Mrs. Josephine Santopietro last night at her home, 65 Oliver street.

Mrs. Santopietro was entertaining some friends when, about 9 o'clock, McBride and Rogers entered the place and demanded some beer. Mrs. Santopietro asked them to leave.

She was seconded in her request by the male portion of her guests, who instinctively grasped the backs of their chairs for the sake of convenience in case of trouble.

McBride and Rogers were not, however, so easily dissuaded. They drew knives and declared solemnly that unless the liquor flowed at their bidding there would be several cases of bloodshed to be recorded.

In the turmoil which ensued Mrs. Santopietro slipped into the street and ran for assistance to the Oak street station-house.

Policeman Michael J. Galvin, who was in duty on the night of the assault, was called to the scene of trouble by the cries of the women. He found the two men and the woman in a state of confusion.

He saw Mrs. Santopietro and made for her. Policeman Galvin had not been long in the room when the two men, who had been drinking, began to quarrel with each other.

They raised the siege on discovering the arrival of the police. They were taken to the station-house, where they were held in custody.

WHOLE FAMILY STRICKEN.

Four Ill with Small-Pox in a Roosevelt Street House.

Police of the Oak Street Station Vaccinated.

A number of fresh cases of small-pox were reported at the Bureau of Contagious Diseases this morning. Some of them were discovered Saturday, and others came to the notice of the Health officials yesterday.

A whole family was found ill with the disease Saturday afternoon at 81 House-Block street, where small-pox had been two or three months ago.

A report was received at the Bureau that a man was sick on the top floor of the Roosevelt street tenement, and an inspector went there. The family in question consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keating, and their two children, Frank, eight years, and William, two years old. They all showed symptoms of small-pox, and were quickly sent to Riverside Hospital.

It was learned that the Keatings had lived in the tenement only a short time. The tenement had been subjected to every measure to stamp out the infection there. All the many families have been vaccinated.

George O'Brien, twenty-eight years old, a Dane, who has been sleeping in various places, was found yesterday in the Roosevelt street tenement, where he had lodged for a short time.

He was taken to the Health Department and placed in a hospital. A corps of fumigators and vaccinators were sent to the tenement.

Every policeman, and even the officers, who had not been vaccinated, were vaccinated. The officers were vaccinated yesterday.

John Copeland, forty-five years old, walked into Bellevue Hospital Saturday evening. He had small-pox and was sent to the island forthwith. Copeland was living at 14 Division street, 199 Park row and 112 Bowery, all three lodgings-places, and the health officers have taken his hands full taking care of these places.

Yesterday two cases of the disease were found at 14 Division street. They were Lena Marchetti, twenty-one months, and Camille Marchetti, twenty-six months. Small-pox had not previously invaded this tenement. The patients were sent to North Brother Island.

The Marchetti family, who had small-pox had broken out in a family named Lurie, at East Forty-fifth street. The Marchetti family, who had small-pox had broken out in a family named Lurie, at East Forty-fifth street.

Justice Martin held them each in $500 bail this morning.

CALLAHAN'S MAN RELEASED.

Sunday Raid on the Assemblyman's Saloon Was in Vain.

Excise Prisoners Also Discharged in Other Courts.

Assemblyman Michael Callahan, who ever since his election to the Legislature by the grace of the Police Justice Patrick Dwyer, has been openly boasting of his ability to violate the law without molestation, carried around a chip on his shoulder this morning, and there was not a man in the Tombs Police Court, for Sunday, who could be the smallest officer, who dared knock it off.

One of Callahan's saloons—the one in Chatham square with which Chinamen are well acquainted—was raided last evening and Daniel Sullivan, the bartender, arrested.

Policeman Smith, of the Elizabeth street station, had the temerity to enter the place.

Earlier in the day other officers had tried in vain to do so, but Callahan's scouts and "bouncers" prevented them from getting inside. It was by strategy that Policeman Smith managed to gain an entrance, and when Callahan heard of it he was so mighty.

This morning the Assemblyman's name was on everybody's lips in the Tombs Police Court. Some of the officers expected a thunderstorm, but it did not break, because Justice Bernard Martin, brother of the President of the Police Board, who presided, took care that it should not.

Callahan thought he owned the court. He was not. There were a few words of testimony offered, and then the judge, in a law-breaking law-maker was dismissed. It is now in order to break or transfer the policeman who had the temerity to make the arrest.

The number of saloons raided yesterday was not so great as on last Sunday. This may be for the reason that those places were kept closed. Rev. Dr. Parker, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who had been in the city for some time, had been in the city for some time.

"The average," he said this morning, "for a long time has been about sixty arrests per day. This morning, however, we had only twenty-five arrests. This may be for the reason that those places were kept closed. Rev. Dr. Parker, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who had been in the city for some time, had been in the city for some time."

A DREARY LIFE.

How to Make It Cheerful and Pleasant.

Bad experiences sometimes have pleasant ends, as in the case of Mr. J. F. Frey, of 532 East 84th street, New York City, who writes as follows:

"I have been a sufferer for eighteen years with asthma, which, in the last few years, has become a chronic condition. My nervous system was in a terrible condition. I worried over everything and could not sleep nights. I was very short of breath and suffered greatly from the asthma and heart trouble."

"After trying many doctors and medicines without benefit, I decided to take Dr. Greene's Nervous and Brain Remedy. I began to improve immediately, and after using two bottles my nerves were strong, my asthma was cured, my heart was all right and I could sleep well."

"The result was marvellous, and I cannot sufficiently express my gratitude for this wonderful discovery. It is the best medicine in the world, and I urge every sick and suffering person to use it. I believe it will cure me."

"It is purely vegetable and harmless, and was discovered by Dr. Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter."
